Many of the Merovingian kings had more than one wife. The children listed (selected as only the most important of the fathers' progeny) are those of the king but not necessarily of the wife named here.

* The parentage of Childeric III is not clear. His father may equally well have been Daniel/Chilperic II as Theuderic IV.