Many of the Carolingian mayors and kings had more than one wife. The children listed here (selected as only the most important of the fathers’ progeny) are those of the king but not necessarily of the wife named here.